General Maxwell D. Teylor, USA Chief of Staff, United States Grown, The Pentagon Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Max:

STAT

Many thanks for your note of 3 February in

We have indeed been trying to find a suitable spot in which to utilize him to good advantage, but thus far, without success. I have talked to him on the telephone several times and earlier this week expressed my regret that at present we don't have a senior position available in which we can really make use of a man of his rank and ability. I expect to be seeing him when he comes to Washington for a visit in about two or three weeks.

I appreciate your interest and will let you know if anything favorable develops here for

With best wishes,

Paithfully,

STAT
